Office News

We have had several complaints from people who do not own carports. They have asked that if you own a carport please park in it and leave the other parking spaces open for the people who do not own carports. This is especially important now that the weather has gotten colder. The people who do not have carports are having to park in spaces that are not close to their buildings because all the other spaces are taken. One lady who complained about this said that she had to park in a space in front of the building next to her building because 3 of the people who have carports were parked in the spaces in front of the building she lived in.

Charlene would like to let everyone know that she cannot do anything about noise or problems that are occurring during the wee hours of the morning or in the middle of the night. It does no good to call her office and leave a message about these problems. If you are getting disturbed in the middle of the night or very early in the morning please call the police they are the only ones who can help you with this problem. Charlene does not get the messages you leave until the next day when she comes in, or if it is a week-end, the following Monday.

An owner here at Coach House Manor, Betty Hull, passed away in December.

We would like to let her husband Murel and their families know how very sorry we are and to let them know our prayers are with them.

Maintenance News

We need to let all new tenants and remind all old tenants that the heaters in the 2 bedroom laundry rooms need to be left alone and on. We actually had someone steal one of the heaters from one of the laundry rooms. We have had damages in the laundry rooms and hallway in the past where someone turned the heater off and the pipes froze and bust. Please again do not touch the heaters in the laundry rooms.

This is another reminder of our website, if you would like to get on the site you can at:
