Office News

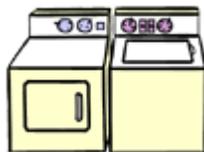

We are having a problem with people storing things out in the hallways, under the steps and in the storage rooms in areas not designated for their unit. The storage in the hallways and under the steps is against the rules and regulations and a violation of the fire code. Should the fire department come to inspect the halls, which they have been known to do, you can be fined a lot of money if your things are found out in the hallway.

We are still having complaints about people leaving their laundry in the washers and dryers for long periods of time or overnight and not removing it to their units. If maintenance or the office gets a call from someone who needs to use the laundry room and you have left your laundry in the washer or dryer and are not home, maintenance will come remove your laundry and bring it to the maintenance office. You in turn will then have to come to maintenance office to retrieve your laundry.

We have had it brought to the Boards attention that some people in the buildings are getting fleas and they do not have any pets.

If you have a pet and it does get fleas you must get them treated, so they do not get so bad that they can get into other peoples units.

maintenance

If you have not heard Kevin Brannan, one of our maintenance people, had a heart attack last Saturday while he was working here at Coach House Manor, making up hours he had lost during the week. Thank goodness Marsha one of the ladies who cleans the hallways and also lives here, saw him and took him to the hospital. He had to have a triple by-pass surgery and is still in the hospital, and probably will be there for a while. If anyone would like to send him a card bring it to the office, Monday – Thursday 9:00 to 4:00, and Charlene will make sure he gets it.
